Haliburton pitcher Nancy Maughan is carried from the field on the shoulders of her teammates after they won the Haliburton County Ladies Softball League championship Monday in Minden. A complete report on the two final games in the series can be found on page 11.

Terry being remembered in Haliburton County

The memory of Terry Fox is flourishing in Haliburton County as three events planned this Sunday, Terry Fox Day, proves. The young runner captured the hearts of Canadians last year as he attempted to run across the country in an effort to raise money for cancer research. He died earlier this year of the disease for which he made an heroic effort.

A picnic is planned in Minden in memory of Terry Fox. Organizer George Elliott said he felt the community as a whole should be doing something in memory of the young runner. "I think a project like this which brings people together is a fitting memorial to the efforts of Terry," Elliott commented.

The picnic has been scheduled for Sunday, September 13 at 5 p.m. at the fair grounds and will go ahead, rain or shine. The new curling club facilities have been made available in case of rain.

"We have also planned a short run of one to two kilometers," Elliott stated. "We kept it short so that just about everyone could take part in this symbolic gesture." Running is the one sport that everyone will always associate with Terry Fox.

"This is not a run to raise money," Elliott emphasized. He pointed out that a small charge will be levied for the corn on the cob, hot dogs and drinks which will be served but this will be just to help recover the expenses. Any extra funds after the bills have been paid will be turned over to the Cancer Society.

Elliott suggested that families bring lawn chairs or blankets with them for the event.

Haliburton run

A 10 km Marathon of Hope run will be held in Haliburton Sunday. The event is sanctioned by the Canadian Cancer Society and pledge sheets are available at chartered banks throughout the county.

"We invite everyone to take part in this fund raising event," an organizer stated.

The entry fee is a $5 donation or a minimum of $5 in pledges.

Registration of runners begins at 12 noon at the Haliburton Squash Club with the run starting at 1 p.m.

Walkathon

Finally, a walkathon is also scheduled for Sunday at 1 p.m. starting from the road opposite PineStone Inn on Highway 121 and winding its way through Blairhampton to Carnarvon. The route covers 15 km.

Organized by the Haliburton Lion's Club, proceeds raised by the effort will be split between the local projects of the service club and the Canadian Cancer

Hockey schedule redrawn - parents, players pleased

Some last minute, long distance phone calls earlier this month rescued what could have been a disastrous season for the Minden Minor Hockey Association.

According to Tom Russell, association vice president, the Ontario Minor Hockey Association schedule for inter-community teams was drawn up August 30. Many parents were surprised and dismayed to learn that Minden teams would be travelling as far away as Newcastle and Port Perry to compete.

A general meeting of the association rejected the schedule September 1. "With the rising cost of gasoline it is not feasible or practical to subject the parents and players of our community to such a schedule," Russell said. He predicted that if the schedule was allowed to stand, many players would not take part this year and the existence of a number of teams would be threatened.

Following the rejection of the schedule by the local organization, members of the Minden Minor Hockey executive contracted OMHA officials and were able to convince them that the schedule should be altered. As a result, Minden teams will compete against most of the same communities they faced last year.

Russell pointed out that the Minden association is dedicated to providing as many boys as possible with the opportunity of playing hockey and felt that keeping the travelling distances to a minimum is one way of ensuring player participation and parental support.

Library is on the move

The Minden Library is closed this week as books and material are being transferred from the old facility to the new location on Bobcaygeon Road North.

The move started last weekend and will continue throughout this week as material is placed on the shelving and the furniture is set in place. The library is expected to resume regular operations next Monday with a grand opening of the facility slated for September 26.

The books are being transferred to the new location by municipal employees while library staff, assistants and volunteers are packing the books at the former location on Peck Street and shelving the items at the new location. Library users who have books at home are requested to keep them until the new library opens.

Series of break-ins plague Haliburton Village

A series of break-ins in Haliburton Village has resulted in charges being laid against three youths.

The charges were laid following the August 31 break-in at the Bruce Sawyer barber shop. Nothing was taken from the premises.

Also broken into was the Haliburton Auto Shop on the dump road. A cash box containing $200 was removed from the premises.

A hair dressing shop owned by Heather Thompson of Haliburton was also broken into the night of August 31 -

September 1, with $10 in cash being taken.

The Haliburton Laundromat, property of Fred Roberts, was also broken into the same evening with $25 in cash being taken.

Timothy James Bounsall, 16, of R.R. 2 Haliburton has been charged with four counts of break and enter, while Jack Glen McPhail, 16, of West Guilford, has been charged with a single count of break and enter. Also charged in the incidents is a 15 year old. The break-ins are being investigated by Constables Mike Smith and Bill Clendenning.

Bakery theft

Bounsall and two other youths, William McMurray, 16, of Lindsay, and Cal Austin Anderson, 17, of R.R. 2 Haliburton have been charged with another break-in, this one at the Linkert Bakery in Haliburton Village.

According to Minden OPP, two officers on foot patrol in the village noticed three youths entering the bakery by a side door on September 3. The trio were charged with the theft of some baked goods.

The incident is being investigated by Constables Weldon Popp and Jim Solway.

Slider B & E

A 17 year old, R.R. 2 Haliburton youth has been charged with break and enter at the Sky Slider offices.

According to police, a number of residents noted a youth kicking at the door of the slider office at 8:40 a.m. on the morning of September 6.

Charged is Michael Shaughen Wilson. Police has also charged the youth with a break and enter incident at the Steinberg Fruit Market earlier this summer.

Study approved for BIA

The Minden Business Improvement Area, BIA, has been accepted for a special study by a group of Ontario architects. Confirmation of the acceptance was received

Alert resident foils theft

Two Toronto area men have been charged with theft and possession of stolen goods valued less than $200. The charges arose out of an incident September 1 at Haliburton Lake.

A resident on that lake saw two men emerge from the woods carrying a cardboard box. The two, when they noticed they were being observed, placed the box on the ground and drove off in a white van. The resident contacted police.

An investigation revealed that the box contained a number of kitchen utensils removed from a nearby hunt camp. The police investigation continued and a white van was located at an area cottage.

Charged in the incident are David W. Bradbury, 23, and Cynthia Ann Whatley, 17, both of Toronto.

Constable Mike Smith is the investigating officer.

Police are investigating the slashing of curtains at the PineStone Inn. The incident was reported to police September 1 by the manager Wayne McGillivray.

An unknown individual slashed the curtains in the conference room. Constable Dennis Potter is investigating.

Airborne garbage

A bag of garbage which flew off the back of a flatbed truck was responsible for knocking down a Don Mills woman. The incident took place September 5.

According to police, a truck driven by Ralph E. Marshall, 22, of Bolton, was rounding a curve on the Hawk Lake Road when the bag slipped off the back of the vehicle and struck Hilda G. Davis, 73, in the legs as she walked along the side of the road. Davis was not injured.

Marshall has been charged with having an insecure load on the truck.

The matter was investigated by Constable Boyd Jarvis.

False story - man charged

A charge of public mischief has been laid against a Peterborough man after he reported to police that he had been abducted at knifepoint by four men.

The incident began early Friday morning when a man called the Minden OPP to report that he had been the victim of an abduction. According to the victim, 33 year old Michael Wilkins of Peterborough, he had been forced to drive from Peterborough to a cottage south of Gooderham by the four assailants.

He said the four had fallen asleep and he escaped from the cottage, travelling to Gooderham where he called the Minden OPP.

Constable Mike Smith of the Minden OPP responded to the call, but upon arriving on the scene became aware that the cottage was in Cavendish Township, an area patrolled by Peterborough OPP.

Further investigation by this detachment and officers of the Peterborough Police Department, where the abduction was supposed to have taken place, led authorities to believe that the story related by Wilkins was a hoax. The man was then charged by the police.

Extra dredging costs approved

A dredging project on municipal parkland will cost Anson, Hindon and Minden more because of adjustments requested by the Ministry of Natural Resources.

Ron Bolender, of Bolender Construction in Haliburton, appeared at last week's council meeting to request the extra payment because the MNR required the dredging materials be taken a further 50 feet back from the point which had been agreed.

The parkland is located at Hunter's Horn on the south side of Lake Kashagawigamog.

Bolender had quoted a figure of $2500 to the township but complications arose when the MNR didn't want the area disturbed because it is a natural spawning ground and the request for the 50 foot leeway was made.

Bolender said the job was to have started in mid-April but in fact wasn't begun until late May. But, he said it wasn't because the job was delayed that the extra cost was added.

"The mud ran into the wrong area and made the job longer," he pointed out.

The additional cost was necessary because the materials had to be moved a second time.

Bolender said by-law officer Dick Schell was to keep track of the hours the crew worked so that he could make an estimate on the extra work.

Deputy-reeve Doug Pritchard said Bolender should "make sure the MNR is satisfied with the work before you have to move everything again."

Bolender said he felt his request of the extra payment was "quite fair" and council agreed to his request.

Council also said Schell should have a look at the site before Bolender receives his payment.

One returned - one missing

At least one of two cats missing from the entrance to a driveway on Bobcaygeon Road north of Minden, has found its way home. The missing statue was returned August 31, but its sister (or brother) is still missing and presumed stolen.

Sometime in July the first of the pair disappeared. The 100 pound figurine had been situated on a short pillar at the entrance to the property owned by Norma L. Douglas.

The second cat disappeared August 30, but the culprits who took this statue obviously felt the animal was becoming homesick and returned it to its perch.

The cat removed in July is still AWOL and police are continuing their investigation into the feline-napping case. Constable Mike Smith is the officer in charge.

Museum workshop

There will be a special day at the Haliburton Highlands Pioneer Museum on Thursday, September 10 starting at 10:00 a.m.

The Canadian Conservation Institute, which has its mobile laboratory at the museum all this week will conduct a demonstration of basic conservation techniques for the public and those interested in learning the proper care and cleaning of articles.

In the morning, the two professionally trained conservators will demonstrate basic treatments with which the beginner cannot go wrong. They will show the treatment of iron and leather materials as well as showing a method of dry cleaning paper, the care and cleaning of silver and copper.

The afternoon will be especially of interest to museum committee members, historical groups and those people connected with museums, as the conservators will present slides and discuss the proper storage of artifacts and their display.

Everyone is welcome.

An excellent selection of garden produce was on display during the weekend at the Kinmount Fall Fair. For more photographs and details please turn to page seven.

School's in

Tuesday thousands of students trooped back to school in Ontario. Here in Haliburton County the youngsters found many interesting changes awaiting their return.

Some of these changes will be obvious from the first day back while others may be more subtle but it could be just as important to the students' education. Reports below and on page five survey some of the changes which have taken place during the summer months at a number of area schools.

Co-ed class planned for home economics & shops

In an effort to reduce stereotyping of individuals in the educational system, home economics and industrial arts classes at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden will be co-ed at the grade six level this year.

School principal Stuart Baker said the move was in response to a province-wide effort to break down the traditional barriers which streamed girls to home economics and boys to shop classes.

He said the program is not only an effort to eliminate stereotypes, but is also based on practicality. "The boys will learn about nutrition, the elements which go into preparing a well balanced meal. They are reaching an age when they may be left on their own for a meal during the day. Being a part of the home economics course means they will have the knowledge to prepare more than a peanut butter sandwich."

Likewise, he pointed out the girls will learn skills which they have not in the past. "The skills will involve home repairs such as changing a plug on the end of a cord," he said.

He noted that the school has offered short co-ed units to grade eight students in the past, but this is the first time it had been planned for an entire year.

"We notified the parents by letter last year and invited their response to the idea," Baker stated. "I haven't received one critical letter."

He said the co-ed classes were an experiment at this point and there are no plans to carry the classes on to other grades in subsequent years. "We'll review the success of the program at the end of the year and make a decision at that point," Baker said.

Student population at Archie Stouffer is expected to be down about 30 this year, according to the principal. An enrolment of 400 is expected. "We're just graduating more grade eight students than we are receiving in kindergarten pupils," Baker commented.

The school will have 23 teachers this year with four of those serving in a half-time basis. New staff members include Pat Bain and Kathy Rogers who will be sharing the kindergarten classes, Gerald Irish the school's vice principal and Gareth Kellet.

HHSES notes drop in student population

Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School in Haliburton is one of the schools in the county to note a sharp decrease in the student population.

Principal Doug Devolin said that while the final number of students is not certain, he expects the school will have around 450 pupils. This compares with 485 last year. "I expected a drop of about 20 students this year," Devolin commented. "This large a decrease is a surprise."

The principal attributed the drop to two reasons. He said there were more families leaving Haliburton and fewer moving into the area served by the school.

Despite the decrease in students, the number of staff members will remain the same as last year. "We may have 35 fewer students," he commented, "but they are not all from a single class." Some classes will have lost only a single student, he pointed out.

Students at HHSES will have a new vice principal this year as Mackay Brydon takes over from Gerald Irish. Mr. Irish has moved to Archie Stouffer School in Minden where Brydon had served as vice principal.

A number of special classes are planned for this year at the school with instruction for students with learning disabilities and the mentally retarded. Classes have also been arranged for the gifted students.

Many of the new programs are the result of the provision contained in Bill 82 enacted recently to ensure education opportunities are afforded all children in all parts of the province. According to Devolin, the new legislation is having a major impact on education throughout Ontario and while the school boards need not implement all the provisions until 1985, the local board has decided to meet some of the requirements ahead of the deadline.

A number of programs started in previous years will be continuing at the school

Glamorgan centre to be used by school

The staff and students at the Gooderham Public School are looking forward to taking advantage of the facilities at the new community centre this year.

According to the school principal, Christine Bailey, the school will be using the centre for indoor recreational play. "It will be a facility which we have not had at our school in the past," she pointed out.

Bailey also noted that the centre has a stage which the school hopes to take advantage of for school presentations, such as at Christmas.

Only three kindergarten students are expected for this year. Last year there were seven kindergarten pupils.

There are two teachers at the Gooderham school with 36 students in grades kindergarten to 4.

this year. As well, Devolin notes that the school facilities are being used more outside of the regular school hours.

He pointed out that a floor hockey recreational program is planned for this year for the students. Use of the school's gymnasium for the competitions will extend into Friday evening and Saturdays.

"A large number of other outside groups are making use of the facilities here," Devolin commented.

Finally, the principal pointed out that this is the tenth year the school has been in operation and there has been very little staff turn-over. "It has made the operation of the school much smoother," he commented. "The staff has been maturing, they are co-operative and understand each others goals." He said the situation has made the administration of the school much easier and provided a better atmosphere for the students.

BIA

by the BIA chairman, Gord Monk last week.

According to the chairman, the core area of the community will be studied by an experienced architect and two students who will then prepare a plan recommending improvements and changes. The program is known as a CAUSE study. While the time of the participants is donated, the local organization is expected to provide funds for expenses.

Monk noted that the study would not be carried out until next April.

Editorial

A good year

"It's been a good year." The comment, in various forms has been repeated by merchants throughout the immediate Minden area in response to the seemingly eternal question, how's business? Merchants report a banner summer season, describe conditions that lead last year's income and inflation by more than a wide margin.

The comments indicate a number of important points in relation to the economic health of Minden and the Haliburton Highlands.

While energy prices have continued to escalate, the individuals who fuel our economy each summer have strengthened their attachment to the area. Cottages appear to have become an even more important destination. A result, no doubt, of the high cost of dragging a trailer around the country or living a nomad existence from motel to motel.

This attitude is likely to be strengthened in the future as gasoline prices climb. The least expensive vacation is going to be the one with a minimal amount of travel and that translates into using the cottage more often or taking advantage of a package vacation at a single destination. The return experienced by merchants and resort operators this past summer appears to reflect that situation.

The Highlands economy still lacks the diversity it should have to give it year-round stability, but it has certainly shown it can move ahead at a time when economic conditions are less than favourable elsewhere in the country.

Careful planning in area promotions, continued efforts to attract new investment to the area and a concerted effort to consolidate the gains that have been made - all these things are needed to ensure a bright future for the county. But, most importantly, a positive attitude to our future is needed to ensure we are not dragged under by unfounded pessimism.

Something called dry

Haliburton County residents were startled Tuesday when patches of blue started appearing overhead. A number of oldtimers were called upon to reassure the younger generation that the world had not come to an end, but that merely the cloud cover which had blanketed this area for close to two weeks was finally starting to break.

Further reassurance was needed from the more experienced members of the community a short time later when a large glowing orb appeared in the sky. Residents reported feeling a warm tingling sensation on their skins as a result of the mysterious circular form. The sudden reappearance of what is believed to be shadows, created havoc among livestock and family pets.

"The blue space is the sky," one longtime resident of the county told the worried crowd that gathered on Minden's main street. He had to consult with a number of his older friends, however, before they agreed that the golden orb was indeed the sun.

When the youngsters started getting used to the bright conditions and partially cleared skies, a new worry swept over the populace as streets and sidewalks started to change colour. "The houses are dying, the houses are dying," the children were heard to yell, "they've stopped dripping."

Sure enough, even the leaves had ceased shedding excess moisture. "It is a phenomenon associated with the sun and clear skies," the oldtimer noted. "It is called dry."

While many found the words of the veteran reassuring, they still seemed apprehensive about the changes taking place. One small child was heard to remark, "I wish everything would return to normal and start dripping again."

After the rain

"Price hike cruel joke"

by Bill Scott, M.P.

The recent energy pricing agreement between Ottawa and Alberta, with its resulting oil and gas price hikes, can best be described as a cruel joke on all Canadian consumers and on those voters who supported the Liberal party in the last federal general election.

In the last federal election campaign the Liberals blasted the Joe Clark government for proposing an 18-cent-per-gallon increase in the price of gasoline. They promised that they would keep gasoline price increases below that level if they were elected.

Since that time, in little over a year, gasoline prices at the pump have increased by about 60 cents per gallon and that is only the beginning. We are now told that gasoline will cost $2.00 per gallon by 1982, and between $4.00 and $5.00 per gallon by 1986. The Canadian Federation of Independent Petroleum Marketers predicts that a litre of gasoline could cost as much as $1.35 by 1986, or roughly $6.50 per gallon.

It would be bad enough if only gasoline prices were affected by the federal government's wheeling and dealing, but there are far worse implications in this new oil-pricing agreement.

For instance, it is estimated that the cost of heating the average home in Canada could rise to $1,200 per year. When this is added to the astronomical increases in home mortgage payments due to high interest rates, then it can be easily seen that the average Canadian family is rapidly being priced out of the home market.

In the coming months tens of thousands of home mortgages will be coming up for renewal. At today's interest rates, this will mean a jump of from 50 to 100 percent in monthly mortgage payments. A large number of these people do not have the income required to meet the payments, and they will simply lose their homes, along with the equity they have built up over the years.

Diesel fuel, used by airlines, railroads, and trucking firms, will also rise over the coming months and years. This means that transportation costs, for both people and goods, will have to rise dramatically.

These costs will have to be recovered from the Canadian consumers, and one obvious result will be another round of increases in inflation.

Ontario is at last coming to grips with a neglected resource - the bogs, marshes, swamps and fens that are collectively known as wetlands. For decades, these pockets of green where the water meets the land have been unfairly characterized as useless wastelands, and drainage or filling has been their fate. As a result, only one acre in five of southern Ontario's original quota of wetland remains in its natural state.

The neglect is hopefully about to end, with the release of an Ontario government discussion paper on wetland policy. Besides noting the natural values of wetlands, the paper suggests some general direction for future action, mostly in the form of land use guidelines similar to the Ontario Food Guidelines which were intended to protect agricultural lands.

There are good reasons for the parallel to foodland. Obviously we need farmland to be fed. But it is becoming increasingly clear that we need wetlands to help ensure a steady, safe supply of clean water, the staff of life. And we need wetlands also to keep the diversity of wildlife in Ontario, without which our province would be a less attractive and enjoyable place.

The wetland discussion paper is full of good intentions on such motherhood issues as clarifying which government agency is responsible for wetlands, getting on with an inventory of the wetlands that remain, and developing planning guidelines and incentives to encourage wetland protection.

But it is dreadfully short on specific suggestions, despite the background of a full year's study by a special advisory group, and it tiptoes around such controversial issues as the effects of agricultural drains on wetlands. But at least it's a beginning.

If you want a copy of the discussion paper, write to the Ministry of Natural Resources, Queen's Park, Toronto. If you are interested in a more detailed discussion, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, can provide information on a two-day Wetlands Conference to be held September 18 and 19.

HHSS students return to redecorated school

Students at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School found a newly decorated school waiting for them Tuesday when they returned.

According to the new principal, Dale Robinson, during the summer months the school underwent a refurbishing inside which saw new, brighter colour schemes. "I think the school is now more bright and cheerful," the new principal said.

He said there are a number of programs planned which will help boost the morale of the students and give them a greater sense of identity with their alma mater. He said details of the plans will be released later in the year.

Greater emphasis is being placed on computer training in the school. "We have now acquired eight computers and will be offering computer training for students," Robinson commented.

A number of special vocational programs are also planned. Of particular interest is the co-operative education component. "The students will be spending part of their time in the classroom and part working in the community. The work experience will be an important part of their education," Robinson stated. The program is being co-ordinated by John Fitzgerald and at the moment school officials are seeking employers who would be willing to provide positions for the course.

"We also have a number of programs for gifted students," the principal stated. "These classes will offer the exceptional students a challenge that is greater than can be offered in the regular classes."

Also in line this year is an increased emphasis on art at the high school. Part of the reason for this is the new curator at the Rails' End Gallery, Lucinda St. Pierre. A portion of her time will be spent in the Haliburton County school system.

"An art program will be initiated here to help encourage those students interested in that field," Robinson stated. "A number of senior students will use Lucinda as a consultant or tutor." He pointed out that to qualify for Ontario Art College, students require a portfolio of work. "In the past students were uncertain what they should include in a portfolio. Lucinda should help guide them in this area," Robinson said.

He also indicated the school is considering the possibility of staging a musical this year. Teacher Nancy Robichaud is assessing the interest in such a project.

Administration changes

Among all the new programs will be a new administration system at the school. Robinson was appointed principal last year following the resignation of Brian Mosgrove who has since left the school for Nova Scotia.

However, instead of a vice principal to assist him, two administrative assistants have been appointed. They are Gary Brohman and Sid Cooper.

"They have been appointed for a two year term and will continue with their regular classroom duties on a reduced basis," Robinson said. "The extra time will be used to help me with the day-to-day administration of the school."

"The two assistants have been appointed for a two year term at which time other members of the high school staff may be chosen to fill the posts. "It is one method of giving more teachers experience with school administration," Robinson said. His own appointment is for a three year term.

The principal said he expected the student population to be down slightly this year. "I may be fooled," he commented. Initial figures indicate there may be up to 575 students at the high school this year compared with 560 last June.

"Students are returning to school from work," he pointed out. "Others who have moved away in search of work may have been unable to find it." He also noted that there appears to be a general increase in the number of families moving into the area.

Exact figures on school enrolment will not be known until the end of September.

The new principal said he was hoping for one more thing in the opening months of the school year. "I'm hoping for a winning football team," he stated.

Year of change at Dorset school

This will be a year of major change for students and staff at the Dorset Public School.

Following a decision of the Haliburton County Board of Education last year, students in grades five to eight will be travelling by bus to Dwight to receive their education there. The decision means that two teachers have moved from the Dorset School and will now be teaching at Minden. They are Gareth Kellet and Kathy Rogers.

The elimination of the senior grades at the Dorset School has also resulted in the removal of the portable classroom. This has meant more room on the playground and, according to the principal, Ruth McLennan, the parents of the community will assist in the construction of adventure playground equipment.

"Our outlook at the school will change somewhat with the senior students gone," McLennan commented. "The school will be oriented more to the age of the students in the primary grades."

According to the principal, the fact that students from the Dorset area will be travelling by bus to Dwight, will mean that some of the primary age students will be arriving at school by 7:40 each morning. "The students will be arriving earlier and leaving later in the day," McLennan commented.

A special room has been set aside in the school as a creative play area for these students to use until regular classes begin. "There will be a supervised play outside or arts and other activities inside," the principal commented.

She pointed out that the early arrival and departure will mean extra long days for the students at the school and the teachers will be watching for any problems this situation may create, especially with the younger students.

The Dorset school will have a staff of two, the principal and Diane Claus, who will teach grades three and four.

"Basically, we're looking forward to a good year," McLennan said.

Special ed interest high at Victoria Street School

The principal of Victoria Street School in Haliburton, Ruth Gorrie, expects that the student population at the school will remain at about the same level as last year. The school population is about 230.

"We've lost a number of students but there is a surprising number of new families in the area," she commented earlier this week.

The principal is also pleased with the fact that nine of her ten staff members have now completed the first year of study in special education. "Six of the teachers attended a special summer course in Bracebridge this year," she commented. "Our ratio of nine out of ten has to be one of the best," she said.

The teachers will be designing programs to meet the individual needs of all the students," she said. The principal pointed out that the training should enable the teachers to meet the needs of all their students on an individual basis. She noted that the school staff includes one specialist who formerly was responsible for designing the special learning programs. This duty is now being shared by the entire staff with the specialist assisting all teachers.

The early identification program is also continuing at the Victoria Street School. "We started with kindergarten students three years ago and have continued to advance the program each year," the principal commented. The purpose of the program is to identify those children with learning difficulties before the education program becomes too difficult. It is hoped that by identifying the problems at an early stage, and working in co-operation with the parents, the teachers will be able to correct the situation before the child has advanced too far in his education.

Ruth Gorrie also pointed out that the school expects an interesting influx this year in the kindergarten classes. "Of the fifty or so students expected," she commented, "there will be five sets of twins attending kindergarten this year."

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

Back in September of 1977, The Haliburton Legion was filled to overflowing with irate property owners at a meeting dealing with the low water levels in our lakes. The Trent-Severn authorities were in attendance to attempt to deal with the concerns and pointed out that their agreement dating back to the early 1900's allowed them to draw all the water to the sills of the dams in our lakes if it was required for the canal system.

That agreement created a reservoir system in our county and of course was made at a time when cottagers were not an economic factor in Haliburton Highlands.

As a result of that meeting a committee was established with representatives of some of the cottagers associations, members of our county government and the manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee has been meeting from time to time since then and have been looking at ways of improving the situation, both on a long and short term basis.

In general the committee is pleased that they reached a goal of vastly improving communication with, and co-operation from the operations personnel on the Trent System. It is felt they are doing everything they can, with the system they have to work with, to keep most people satisfied.

That statement is qualified with the insertion of "the system they have to work with" and we must remember the system was not designed to satisfy our needs, but the needs of the Trent Canal.

It becomes an extremely complicated process to attempt to maintain as much water as possible in our lakes throughout the summer season while keeping up the levels and the flow that the canal requires. The best laid plans can be completely destroyed by unusual weather conditions such as we are experiencing right now.

Even not drawing water causes problems. Maple Lake has been experiencing low water levels because, while during this wet month of August they have not been drawing down our lakes and Maple Lake is on a "flow system" where the level drops when the volume of water flowing through is reduced.

The major change instituted through the requests of the committee was to have more water saved in the reservoir lakes at the beginning of the season. During the drought year of 1977 the lakes had only been filled to 80% of their capacity to allow a buffer for possible flood conditions.

Subsequent dry conditions then ensued and the lakes only partly filled to start with we soon found our water levels unacceptably low. The committee insisted it cannot be both a reservoir and flood control system and asked the lakes to be filled to at least 95% of capacity in the spring to ensure an adequate level of water for the balance of the season.

A survey was taken this year of lake associations to find out if they are satisfied with this practice. Out of 39 lakes in the reservoir system, 4 are controlled by the Ministry of Natural Resources and 7 have no associations representing them. The remaining 28 were sent a questionnaire and 19 of them replied, while 9 have not responded to even subsequent reminders. The information from the associations that did respond has been forwarded to the Trent Canal people.

It should be stressed here that the committee finds it impossible to deal with individual concerns about water levels since what one property owner may desire may not be the same as his neighbours. It is therefore, important that the committee be approached by organized associations who can provide a consensus of the opinions on their particular lake.

The long range solution to this problem, the committee feels, is the creation of a new reservoir on an uninhabited portion of the system to take the pressure off the developed lakes in our region. Last December, the then Minister of Natural Resources, James Auld, wrote confirming that arrangements were being made to undertake a feasibility study of a Conservation Authority in the Highlands. A subsequent letter from the new Minister, Allan Pope, has withdrawn this promise due to finance restraints. The committee will continue to apply pressure to this cause.

The committee is convinced that through continued effort we can improve on an unfair situation that was created much before our time and your input and understanding will help. Your comments can be related to the committee through your associations who in turn are invited to contact any of the committee members.

Kinmount Fair still a big hit

Despite weather that could only be described as less than favourable, the Kinmount Fall Fair still attracted between 18,000 and 20,000 patrons during the Labour Day weekend. A spokesman for the fair said the attendance figure was down somewhat from previous years, but there was little the fair committee could do about the weather.

"We knew conditions were less than ideal," the spokesman said, "but we carried on anyway. None of the events was cancelled because of the weather."

The photographs on this page capture some of the excitement and flavour of the annual show. The following are but a few of the highlights from various competitions:

- Bea Taylor of Minden submitted 120 items to the various competitions. She was among a number of participants who were awarded 15 or more first place ribbons. Included in the group were Mary Hartin of Kinmount, Muriel Bird of Minden, Sharon Sisson of Bracebridge, Penny Hartin of Kinmount, Jeff Lettner of Kinmount and Vera Byrne.

- there were over 500 exhibits submitted for the sewing, baking and home arts section.

- the heavy horse pull was won by Joe McFeeters of Fenelon Falls while John Lawrenson of Havelock took the light horse category.

- winner of the demolition derby was Gerard Jilson of Downeyville while Roger Billings of Gooderham placed second.

- Don Grant of Woodville took top honours for his sheep entry.

- Malcolm Bailey of Uxbridge took six first place ribbons in the Angus cattle competition.

- in the Charolais class, Keith Goble of Janetville also claimed six first place ribbons.

- in the Hereford multiple class Louis Batty of Norland was first, Mark Schrader of Gelert second and Eli Jones of Cameron third.

- Rhonda Lewis of Fenelon Falls won the toddler contest.

- the best float award in the parade went to Camp Chimo while John Austin & Sons Limited of Kinmount took second spot.

- Anne-Marie George of Kinmount was awarded first prize for the best decorated bicycle.

Use it - don't abuse it

The Minden District of the Ministry of Natural Resources contains more than 900,000 acres, of which about 400,000 acres is made up of Crown lands and waters available for public use.

At this time of year many people are using these land and waters for various summer recreational activities such as swimming, camping, canoeing, fishing and hiking. It should be noted that anyone may camp on unposted Crown land for up to 21 days per year free of charge.

Whatever the activity, it is always a pleasure to find recreation areas unspoiled. Unfortunately this is not always the case. Favourite spots are too often found littered with lunch refuse, pop and beer bottles or tins, and other garbage. Each season many sites must be cleaned up by other concerned persons, or in many cases, by staff from the Ministry of Natural Resources. This is costly not only in terms of time and dollars, but also in the aesthetic and environmental impact.

How many times have you seen where thoughtless persons have left garbage and debris along your favourite trail or on the shore of your favourite fishing lake and muttered to yourself, "there ought to be a law?" Take heart! There is a law and if violators are caught, they can be prosecuted. There is provision under the Public Lands Act whereby an offender is liable to a fine of up to $500.00.

A genuine effort to ensure that recreational sites are left clean and tidy should be an accepted responsibility of all good recreationists.

After all, if you can pack it in full surely you can carry out the empty container. A good example to others in this regard may just be contagious.

(Prepared by the Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden).

The Honourable Mike Wilson, Conservative energy critic, said that the federal government has engaged in a deliberate attempt to mislead and deceive the Canadian public in the new energy agreement, and that the economic effects would be felt for many years to come. He said that the government's delaying tactics have meant a loss of at least two years in job creation projects for Ontario. Wilson added that what we have here is an enormous revenue grab, at great cost to the Canadian consumer and to the detriment of Canada's future oil supply.

Last week finance minister Allan MacEachen said that the federal government would realize tens of billions of dollars in new revenues from the new oil-pricing agreement. When asked by reporters if he would use some of that money to provide relief for home-owners hard hit by high interest rates and increased fuel costs, he smiled and said that he couldn't promise anything.

Unfortunately, that is the true measure of this government's attitude to the plight of the Canadian public, and a scandalous abuse of power by a government that asked for a majority so that it could serve the people. It is the government and not the people who are being served.

Remember the saying "You don't have anything if you don't have your health". It's true.

Soyer's Lake regatta

Once again this year, the Soyers Lake regatta and corn roast proved to be a success with many members of the ratepayers association and their guests in attendance despite overcast conditions. The event was held Saturday, August 29.

The first regatta item was the canoe races. The adult men's singles race was won by Lorne Campbell, with Scott Thompson second, Buzz Thompson third and Steve Jackman fourth. In the adults doubles, Lorne and Linda Campbell were first and Lynn and Marlene Jackman came second.

Thanks to the good work of Commodore Marnie Blair and Bo'sun Bob Thompson, sailing is now a favourite pastime on Soyers Lake. In the race for Type CL-14 boats, Ross Partridge came first and Win MacDonald second. In the Laser Invitation class, Laurie Camerson was first, Buzz Thompson second and David Pengelly third. In the mixed class, Allan and Una Mawson were first in their boat "Mirror". Special mention must be made of the achievement of Jeanette Ettel, surely the youngest competitor, who at the age of eight completed the course solo.

Entries for the fish derby will close at midnight on Monday, September 7, and it would appear that chairman Jim Byrnes and recorder Joe Smith are likely to have some interesting entries. We understand that in the past few months Tom Cotton has landed two 4-pound fish, which should encourage other anglers to try their luck.

In the evening, upwards of 120 association members and guests gathered at Elstone's Flats adjoining Lakeview Lodge for the sixth annual corn and wiener roast, organized by committee chairman Gordon Ogg supported by Joe Smith, John Scarlett, Ben Cameron, Mo (Myra) and Ross Dyer. Generous mouthfuls of corn from Oshawa were delectable, as were the hot dogs grilled with unflagging zeal by Bill and Bob McCriston and Valery Lalingo.

The feast was followed by the singing of "Happy Birthday" in honour of Mrs. Frances Elstone, who will be 95 on September 25th. A sudden shower then sent some of the company running to their cars. The remainder, their enthusiasm undampened, regrouped for a sing-song led by Bob Thompson, and soon the strains of old favourites such as "Old MacDonald had a Farm" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream" floated across the bay. Especially welcome was Nellie Ettel, who brought her guitar to the party and everyone asked her to play. It seemed that the wind and the rain only served to enliven the spirit of the evening.

President Lew McCriston wound up the proceedings by congratulating the winners in the regatta. He spoke of current activities, urging members to attend the fall meeting of the Association at 1:30 p.m. on the Sunday of Thanksgiving weekend (location to be confirmed but probably the PineStone Inn). He added that the seventh edition of the lake map and directory of members was being prepared to include new members and changes of address.

Haliburton takes ladies championship

The Ladies Softball League season came to an end Monday evening with the Haliburton team claiming the championship in a series with the Minden Dixie-Lee - Homestead Seniors. The Haliburton squad took the best of five play-off three games to one.

Minden had tied the series at a single game each last Monday, however when the series moved to Haliburton, Wednesday, the hosts proved to be a hard team to beat. They defeated Minden 9 - 5 in that contest.

Back in Minden Labour Day evening, dodging the raindrops, Minden made a valiant effort to catch the early lead established by Haliburton but were unable to do so and went down to a 12 - 9 defeat.

Haliburton opened the scoring Wednesday evening with two runs in the first inning. Minden gained a space on the scoreboard in the third with a single and it wasn't until the fifth inning that Haliburton moved out in front with a three run edge. Four more runs in the sixth inning put the game on ice for Haliburton.

Minden managed one run in the sixth and three more in the top of the seventh, but were unable to maintain the momentum to overtake their hosts.

Minden opened the scoring Monday evening with a single run in the first inning, but Haliburton quickly took the lead in their half of the opening frame, scoring two runs. Haliburton scored three more in the third.

Minden scored three runs in the fourth inning to come within one of the visitors. The fifth inning saw Minden pull briefly into the lead with a two run inning, but Haliburton scored three runs to maintain their two run edge. A single for Minden in the sixth and two runs in the seventh gave the home team a nine run total.

However, Haliburton was able to manage four more runs in the seventh to give them a total of 12 and the championship.

The winning pitcher in both games was Nancy Maughan while Andrea Burk took the losses.

Haliburton team members showered their coach with bubbly following the victory, capping an exciting series and a fun season for the league.

Jet purchase upsets Eakins

Victoria-Haliburton M.P.P. John Eakins has condemned the purchase of a $10.6 million jet by the Ministry of Natural Resources for the use of Bill Davis and members of his Cabinet. "At a time when the government is operating at a huge deficit and interest rates are at record levels, the government's squandering of over $10 million on a luxury jet is intolerable," said Eakins.

The Victoria - Haliburton member said in a press release last week the government will have to borrow the money to buy the Challenger jet and that will cost it over $1.5 million a year in interest charges alone. "The government could rent a private jet three times a day for trips anywhere in Ontario at the same cost as the interest charges alone on this new airplane," Eakins is quoted as saying.

Eakins says the purchase is even more ridiculous when one realizes that the plane can only land at 22 of Ontario's 78 airports because it needs a 5,000 foot long runway to take-off and land. That means the Town of Lindsay will never be privileged enough to receive a flying visit from the Premier of Ontario because his jet won't be able to land at the town's airport.

Eakins says the jet purchase is simply an abuse of the new power the Conservatives gained when they won a majority in the last election. "The purchase simply makes no sense at the present time. It certainly in no way serves the people of Ontario who will be forced to pay for it. It's a strange way for the Tories to keep the promise they made to the voters in March," said the Liberal M.P.P.

Injured motorcyclist taken to Minden hospital

A Richmond Hill youth was taken to Minden Red Cross Hospital Saturday following a motorcycle accident on Highway 503 in Snowdon Township.

According to police, 17 year old Richard C. Mole drove his 1975 model Kawasaki motorcycle off the road and into the ditch. He was taken by ambulance to the Minden hospital. The extent of his injuries are unknown, but it is believed they were serious.

Mole is charged with operating a motor vehicle without a proper driver's licence.

The mishap was investigated by Constable Weldon Popp.

Just in passing

A two vehicle accident on Highway 35 four miles north of Minden resulted in $900 damage and a charge being laid against one of the drivers.

The two cars were north-bound when the one being driven by Mark Steve Harrison, 23, of Thornhill, pulled out to pass. While he was in the passing lane, a second vehicle, this one driven by Nancy Isabella Holland, 42, of Willowdale, also attempted to pull out into the passing lane.

The action of the Holland car forced Harrison to veer to the left striking a number of guard rails and causing $600 damage. In reaction to the near collision, Holland steered her vehicle to the right and struck another set of guard rails causing $300 damage.

Holland has been charged with failing to change lanes safely.

The mishap was investigated by Constable Bob Pearson.

Driver charged

A charge of careless driving has been laid against a New York State man following a single car mishap on Highway 519 in Guilford Township.

Bruce J. Norred, 19, of Sarasota Springs, New York, drove his 1981 model Datsun across the opposite lane of the highway and into the ditch causing $1000 damage. The accident occurred at 2 a.m., September 6.

Norred has been charged with careless driving. The incident was investigated by Constable Michael Legge.

$3500 damage

Damage was extensive in a single car mishap Thursday on Highway 35, three miles north of Minden.

The car was being driven by Mark Andrew Inglis, 17, of Willowdale, when it swerved, knocked over some guardrails and slid down an embankment. The driver claimed he had swerved to avoid an animal on the road.

Passengers in the vehicle, 17 year old Craig Paul of North York and 18 year old Laurie Beggs of Mildmay, Ontario, sustained minor injuries along with the driver.

Inglis has been charged with careless driving. Constable Brian Dunham was the investigating officer.

Missed the curve

A single car accident on Highway 121 just east of Highway 35 resulted in $2000 damage to a 1973 model Pontiac.

According to the police, the driver, Peter J. Wolfe, 22, of Wallaceburg was travelling east when the vehicle missed a curve and entered the ditch.

The driver and passenger Andrew Lawrence, 20, of Chatham, sustained minor injuries in the accident.

The driver has been charged with having an open package of liquor in his car. Constable Weldon Popp was the investigating officer.

Motorcycles meet

A double motorcycle accident resulted in injuries to four youths Sunday afternoon. The accident occurred on the South Kashagawigamog Road.

The motorcycles were travelling in the same direction when they collided.

Our regular activities began on Monday morning with fun and fitness. We always have a lot of fun while keeping our bodies fit. After lunch the ladies went to crafts to work on their individual projects.

Monday evening several residents went to the auditorium to watch the movies. The first one called "Figurines" showed us how Royal Doulton figurines are made. These delicate ornaments are made entirely by hand skilled artists.

"Return of the Swans" was an interesting film about the migration of the whistling swans. We were taken to Alymer, Ontario where there is a sanctuary which provides food and a resting spot on the journey to the far north. Around 2,000 swans can be seen at the sanctuary. The determination of the whistling swan in migration is a natural wonder.

Tuesday morning Rev. George Elliott of Minden Anglican church held Communion service in the chapel. Fred Ballard played the organ for the singing of hymns.

After lunch a game of bingo was held in the auditorium.

Earle Cooper, his wife, son, and sisters-in-law provided some good old time music for music night. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed their evening and look forward to the next visit from Earle and his group of musicians.

Wednesday evening games were held in the auditorium. Several of our residents enjoyed games of euchre, cribbage and crokinole. Our thanks to all the volunteers who came to visit.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of St. Stephens Church in Boshkung served a lovely variety of goodies at the tea party. It was a special treat to hear the voice of Sharon Crowther, who sang some hymns for us. Sharon is the great neice of Mrs. Mary Oliver who is a resident here. Althea Gartshore accompanied Sharon on the piano. Our thanks to all these people for a most enjoyable tea party.

Friday afternoon several people gathered in the main lounge for the sing-song. Grace Coburn led us in the singing of hymns and favourite songs and Norma Barron played the piano. Ray Jenkins also played some piano music for us.

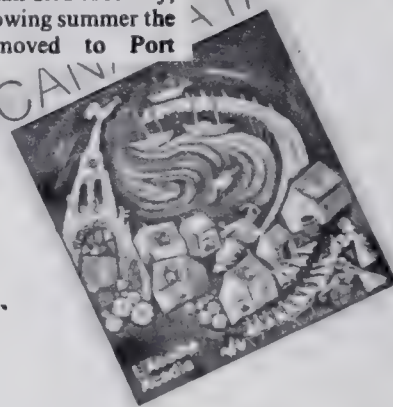

We would like to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harrison and Mr. John Stewart to our home. We sincerely hope they will enjoy their new residence at Hyland Crest.

New issues honour Mosher and Acadia

Two new stamps have been issued recently by the Canadian post office.

The first marking the centenary of the first Acadian convention was scheduled for issue August 14 while the second followed the Labour Day holiday and honoured Aaron Mosher, the founder of the Canadian Labour Congress.

Acadia began in 1604 when seventy-nine Frenchmen wintered on Ste-Croix Island in Passamaquoddy Bay. More than half died of scurvy, and the following summer the survivors moved to Port Royal in the region that is now Nova Scotia.

The colony expanded slowly and changed hands between Britain and France fourteen times in the seventeenth century alone. When Britain took over the region permanently in 1713, the Acadians tried to maintain their neutrality. In 1755 local British authorities expelled them, fearing that they posed a military threat.

Deportations continued for several years, but in 1764 the Acadians were allowed to return and formed the basis of today's Acadian community. The first Acadian Convention took place at Memramcook, New Brunswick, in 1881. At this and other conventions in the 1880's, the Acadians chose a national feast day, a flag, and a patron saint.

The illustration for this stamp is the work of Nere DeGrace, a painter of Acadian origin. Typography is by William Tibbles.

Labour organizer

Aaron Roland Mosher was born near Halifax, Nova Scotia, in 1881. He went to work in 1903 for the Intercolonial Railway in Halifax, where in 1907 he led a successful strike for better pay and working conditions. At Moncton in 1908 he helped found and became Grand President of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees.

In 1927 Mosher formed the All-Canadian Congress of Labour, a group of Canadian unions. The first and only president of this organization, he united it in 1940 with the Canadian branches of the Congress of Industrial Organizations to form the Canadian Congress of Labour, which also appointed his president. The CCL merged with the Trades and Labour Congress in 1956 to form the Canadian Labour Congress; Mosher was named honorary president and was elected to the Labour Hall of Fame.

Mosher was a founding member of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation. His war work earned him the Order of the British Empire. He died in 1959.

The stamp, designed by Roger Hill of Toronto, features a portrait of Mosher flanked by two railway workers.

Twenty-million stamps of each design have been printed by Ashton-Potter Limited, Toronto.

Build a little fence of trust
Around today;
Fill each space with loving work
And therein stay;
Look not through the sheltering bars
Upon tomorrow,
God will help thee bear what comes,
Of joy or sorrow.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Monk enjoyed a pleasant holiday.

There was a christening at the Sunday morning service of St. Paul's Anglican Church of Jason Robert McIntosh.

If it's ever so small a part you take,
The world has need of you.
Be it big or little the effort you make,
The world has need of you.
If it's only a thought you give by the way,
If it's only love's word you pause to say,
It's a part that nobody else can play,
So the world has need of you.
By your smile you can change another's life;
By a word you can bring peace out of strife;
Then lift your head and never say die;
Count every blessing, stop every sigh.
Get busy...don't let a chance slip by,
For the world has need of you.
Evelyn Whitell

This is the 12th day it has rained, can't remember when we had so much of that, can only get better. School is starting, so watch for those school buses. Drivers must stop when meeting or following them. Cheerio until next time.

Hi! Summer holidays are over for another year. The youngsters are back at school and things are back to normal or as close to normal as possible. It's too bad the weather couldn't have co-operated and made the last few days pleasant. Oh well there's always next year.

Pleased to hear Nelson Archer is back home from his three weeks stay in hospital. Sure hope he is feeling better.

Up visiting with Anne and Frank Dunsford was Anne's cousin Joyce Neaves, from Toronto. Also some friends from Willowdale, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stevens. Then on Saturday Anne and Frank attended a wedding in Toronto and Anne stayed for a week with her cousin Rita Brooks.

Marg Miller and Jeanne Bowron with baby grandson Ross spent the day in Lindsay.

Our house turned out to be a drop in centre on the weekend. It was the gathering of the Clan. Friday night was the beginning as Bill, Wendy and Dawn arrived and stayed till Sunday, when Doris, Richard and Chris Hubbard arrived followed by Bruce, Bernice and Penny Lacey, then Irene, Fred, Kim and Jeff Graham. In the evening Arnie and Ernie arrived followed by Jeanne and Mike Cruickshank, with daughters Michellene and Sheri and a girl friend, Brenda Mahoney.

Two young men were being interviewed for the Navy. They were asked, "Do you know how to swim?" Both looked puzzled, and one replied, "What's the matter? Aren't there enough ships?"

Do you believe all those sports on T.V. on the weekend? If I hadn't been so busy making meals I think I'd have made the "old man" wear the T.V.

Hint of the Week
Flattened carpet - if heavy furniture has flattened the pile of your rugs, raise it with a steam iron. Build up good steam and hold your iron over the damaged spot. Do not touch the carpet with the iron. Brush briskly.

Kids Corner
Well kids, it's back to the 'ole grind'. Please watch when you go out to the bus that the cars stop for you before you cross the road.
